

ReseroWisdom: Unlocking Leadership Potential to Tackle Tough Energy Industry Issues

Why Wisdom?

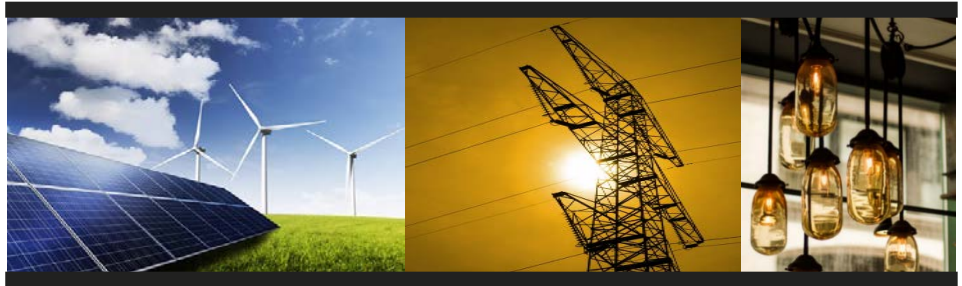

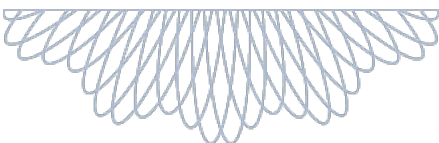

Based on polls:

Only 25% of employees feel they are fully empowered to contribute their ideas and experience

Only 30% of employees feel plugged in to their company mission

Only 8% of people say they strongly identify with and take pride in their work

Resero is pleased to introduce its wisdom practices, now offering mentoring, coaching and training to scientifically-minded professionals through ReseroWisdom. A certified SearchInsideYourself instructor, Ellen Wolfe also offers public, private, and group trainings.

Putting Your Best Foot Forward

Resero Offers Leadership, Skill-Building, and Mentoring

Resero has been supporting clients for over 12 years, bringing together intellect, knowledge, creativity, and people skills to tough issues.

Leveraging human potential is critical to addressing today's challenges and unprecedented pace of change. Embracing these tough issues and harnessing them to effect successful business outcomes – and successful business people – is the strength of ReseroWisdom.

Energy professionals have not traditionally received deep training in intuition, creativity, presence, and resilience.

ReseroWisdom can help develop these critical skills

Investing in personal potential becomes important especially in mid- and later stages of one's career.

ReseroWisdom will strategically target improvements at the individual and group level that will improve employees' sense of empowerment, ownership and pride in their work product and organization's mission. This leads to organizational strength, resilience, and is key in succession planning.

ReseroWisdom's program, SearchInsideYourself, was born at Google and is highly interactive two-day program followed by a four-week program for inspiring well-being, collaboration, and high-performance.

Where do I go next?

Taking Your Work to the Next Level

RESEROWISDOM CATERS TO YOUR NEEDS

Resero customizes its training, coaching and mentoring to your needs.

Executive Programs

Executive coaching and training creates breakthroughs in personal and leadership capacities and creates new future possibilities. Applying research-based approaches ReseroWisdom offers coaching and trainings for mid-level to senior executives as they prepare to assume greater responsibility and expand their leadership capabilities. We also support the development of future leaders by coaching high-potential employees.

Teams

ReseroWisdom works with teams and their individual members to enhance team processes and functionality, overcome challenges and improve outcomes. Typical objectives include facilitating communication, enhancing team cohesion, streamlining work flow or work processes, improving problem-solving and decision-making practices and delivering higher-quality work products.

Individual Performance

ReseroWisdom supports individuals, whether they are onboarding into leadership rolls, wish to harness greater creativity, seek to improve resilience and reduce stress, or obtain other specific workplace or personal goals.
